Project Summary

Background

This project is offering our teachers the opportunity to attend training programs in order to be able to respond to our school community needs of inclusion, reduction of segregation and discrimination. After these training programs, the teachers will be able to improve their working skills directed towards inclusion and assimilate new formal and informal strategies and working methods.

The members of our institution need to take into consideration and act to combat discrimination and provide a long term commitment towards inclusion. Through the Erasmus + program, we were able to identify training opportunities, focused on the objectives of our strategy, regarding inclusion and diversity, from the European Solidarity Corps, to respond to our students' needs. By participating to these programs we will be given the chance to acquire new working techniques, reduce barriers and have an overall positive perspective on inclusion.

Objectives

The implementation of this project will offer to at least 50 % of our school teachers the possibility to obtain new skills and to assimilate new strategies and differential working methods. By implementing these new formal and informal methods we want to improve school results by 60% and general students' well-being. On long term, after implementing the Strategy for Inclusion and reduction of segregation, we will take action to develop by 40 % our school community inclusive behavior towards vulnerable categories. The European dimension of this Erasmus+ project will also benefit our institution by promoting values of inclusion and diversity reunited by the European Solidarity Corps.

Activities

To achieve the objectives, the following were designed:

PREMOBILITY ACTIVITIES: promoting the project; Establishing the implementation; Team, selection of participants; Pedagogical, linguistic and cultural training; Finalization of the monitoring and evaluation plan; Registration in the Mobility Tool.

MOBILITY FLOWS: participation of 6 teachers in 2 training courses: 'Non formal for inclusion' and 'Harmony and learning'. The teachers will be given the opportunity to assimilate skills that will help them facilitate students' inclusion and well-being. 5 teachers will attend the job-shadowing activity at a Primary School in Greece, where they will get used to techniques to promote inclusive education. 12 students will benefit from an exchange experience in Turkey.

POSTMOBILITY ACTIVITIES: information sessions in the Teacher's Council, methodical commissions, pedagogical reunions, workshops with students, demonstration activities, eTwinning activities, organization of a symposium.

Impact

The project will lead to the following results:

11 teachers trained in 3 courses/job-shadowing activities to meet the needs of the school; 12 students will benefit from the mobility exchange program with our partner school; 3 eTwinning cooperation activities; dissemination activities in the local school community; Workshops within school commissions, pedagogical reunions, local conferences, activities with parents; In order to facilitate information sharing, a symposium will take place in our county. The information will be published on our school site, in local press, on our school facebook page, in the virtual library of the School Inspectorate of Botosani. All the activities and official documents will be marked with the Erasmus + logo in order to acknowledge publicly the importance of learning and the benefits of the Erasmus+ programs.
